The original Potters Field or Paupers was behind the County Hospital on Stockton Blvd., near the old State Fairgrounds.

The County Hospital cemetery was full and the Fairgrounds wanted to expand. The bodies were exhumed in the late 1930's to 1950's. No records have been found. The last burial was April 25, 1927.

They were removed to the new Sacramento County Burial Grounds on Fruitridge Ave. next to St. Mary's Cemetery. The first burial was April 27, 1927. and the last burial was June 1961.

Neglected by the County, in March 1975 the County Administrator sold the 12 acres plus unused land to St. Mary's for $1.00.

When the church acquired the land there were abandoned cars and trash everywhere. Their maintenance crews plowed to clear it of weeds.

The markers were concrete blocks with copper plates having the County Hospital number identification and last name. They have been scattered and buried as the field was mowed or plowed.

St. Mary's office has a card file and plot plan. They can tell where a person was buried, however, there is no marker and the person cannot be found in a particular location.

There were a few stones erected by family members and they have disappeared.

Records for the removal from County Hospital Cemetery to the County Cemetery have not been found.

On October 4, 2003 the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors and Sacramento County Cemetery Advisory Commission and the St. Mary's cemetery and Catholic Diocese dedicated a Memorial for the 10,000 indigents buried there. St. Mary's Cemetery has made a park like setting with trees and shrubbery and will allow natural grasses to grow and mow as necessary.

The Coroner's office has plans to computerize all indigent burials.
